

CALL TO HELL

In order to develop friendly relationship between the two countries, I.K.Gujral and Nawaz Sharif decided to visit each other's country regularly. The first visit was by Gujral to Pakistan. There Sharif showed him Pakistan's modern telecommunication systems. It was so good that Gujral made a call to Rajiv Gandhi in hell and talked to him for 5 minutes! The bill for the call came to only Re.1. When Gujral came back, he also wanted India's telecommunication systems to be at the best when Nawaz Sharif visited India. Suitable arrangements were made. Sharif came to India, visited the telecom department and talked to Zia-ul-Haq in hell for 5 minutes. But this time, the bill was Rs. 500! Sharif asked with a sarcastic smile - "Why are telephone calls to hell so costly in India?" A High level diplomat gave a smiling reply - "From Pakistan to hell, it is a local call, Sir, while from India it is long distance!".

Stevie & Woods

At a celebrity party, stevie Wonder meets golf champ Tiger Woods and mentions that he, too is an excellent golfer.

Tiger is a bit skeptical that the blind musician can play golf well, but he is too polite to say anything.

"When I tee off " the singer explained, "I have a guy call to me from the green, my sharp sense of hearing lets me aim."

Tiger is impressed, and stevie suggests that they play a round.

When tiger agrees, Stevie how about if we play for $100,000?"

Tiger insisted he couldn't possibly play him for money because of his sight handicap.

But Stevie argues and badger Tiger until Tiger finally relents and says "OK, it's your money when do you want to play?"

Stevie replies, "I'll play on the night you choose!"

A beautiful woman joined a fellow at the bar who soon approached the man with an offer.

"I'll make your dreams come true," she whispered, "for ahundred and fifty dollars."

"That's a lot of money," the guy pointed out, admiring her voluptuous body.

"I'm worth it," she assured him breathily. "For a hundred and fifty dollars, I'll act out any fantasy. In fact, I can make any three words come true. Just dream them up, baby." "Any three words? For a hundred and fifty dollars?"

The man's voice grew husky as the woman's hand crept up his leg. She nodded, reaching up with the other hand to caress the back of his neck while he considered the offer.

Finally he leaned back with a big smile and announced

"It's a deal!"

He leaned over and whispered, "Paint my house."

Smart Boy

Phillip fancied himself quite a ladies man. So, when his cruise ship when down in a storm and he found himself stranded on a deserted Island with six women, he could not believe his good fortune. They quickly agreed that each woman would have one night a week with the only man. Phillip threw himself into the agreement with gusto, but as the weeks stretched into month, he found himself looking forward to that day of rest more and more eagerly.

One afternoon he was sitting on beach and wishing for some more men to share his duties when he caught sight of a man waving from life raft that was bobbing on the waves. Phillip swam out, pulled the raft to shore, and did a little jig of happiness.

" You can't believe how happy I am to see you, " he cried. The new fellow eyed him up and down and cooed, " You're a sight for sore eyes, too, you gorgeous thing!" " Shoot!" Sighed Phillip; "there go my Sundays."

SAILORS TALK

This is the transcript of the ACTUAL radio conversation of a Pakistani naval ship with Indian authorities off the West coast of India.

India: Please divert your course 15 degrees the South to avoid a collision.

Pakistanis: Recommend you divert your course 15 degrees the North to avoid a collision.

Indians: Negative. You will have to divert your course 15 degrees to the South to avoid a collision.

Pakistanis: This is the Captain of a Pak Navy ship. I say again, divert YOUR course.

Indians: No. I say again, you divert YOUR course.

Pakistanis: This is the Aircraft Carrier ABRAHIM MULANA, The second largest ship in the Pakistan's Indian Ocean fleet. We are accompanied by three destroyers three cruisers and numerous support vessels. I demand that you change your course 15 degrees North I say again, That's ONE FIVE DEGREES NORTH, or counter-measures will be undertaken to ensure the safety of the ship.

Indians: This is a lighthouse. Your call.

THAT'S INDIA

Year : 2020

Place: Two Americans at IBM, USA.

Currency Conversion Rate: Rs. 1/- = $ 100/-.

Alex: Hi John, you didn't come yesterday to office?

John: Yeah, I was in Indian Embassy for stamping.

Alex: Oh really, what happened, I heard that nowadays it has become very strict.

John: Yeah, but I managed to get it.

Alex : How long it took to get it stamped?

John : Oh, it was nasty man, long queue. Bill Gates was standing in front of me and they played with him like anything. That's why it got delayed. I went there at 2 am itself and waited and returned by 4 pm.

Alex : Really? In India, it is a matter of an hour to get stamped for USA

John : Yeah, but that is because who in India will be interested in coming to USA man, their economy has been booming.

Alex : So, when are you leaving?

John : Anytime, after receiving my tickets from the client in India and you know, I will be getting a chance to fly Air-India. Sort of dream come true.

Alex : How long are you going to stay in India.

John : What do you mean by how long. I will be settled in India, my company has promised me that they will process my Hara Patta.

Alex : Really, lucky person man, it is very difficult to get a Hara Patta in India.

John : Yeah, that's why, I am planning to marry an Indian girl there.

Alex : But you can find lots of US girls in Hyderabad, Bangalore and Mumbai.

John : But, I prefer Indian girls because they are beautiful and cultured.

Alex : Where did you get the offer, Hyderabad?

John : Yeah, salary is good there, but cost of living is quite high, it is Rs. 1000/- for a single room accommodation.

Alex : I see, that's too much for US people, Rs. 1/- = $ 100/-. Oh God! What about in Chennai, Mumbai?

John : No idea, but it is less than what we have in Hyderabad. It is like the world headquarters of Software.

Alex : I heard, almost all the Indians are having one personal Robot for help.

John : You can get a BMW car for Rs. 5000/-, and a personal Robot for less than Rs. 7500/-. But my dream is to purchase Ambassador, which costs Rs.200000/- but has got a sexy design.

Alex : By the way, who is your client?

John : Reddy and Naidu Associates, a pure Indian company, specializing in Embedded Software.

Alex : Oh, really, lucky to work in a pure Indian company. They are really intelligent and unlike American Bodyshoppers who have opened their Fly-by-night outfits in India. Indian companies pay you in full even when you are on bench. My friend Paul Allen, it seems, used his bench time to visit Bihar, the most livable place in India, probably world. There you have full freedom and no restrictions. You can do whatever you want! I wonder how that state has perfected that system.

John : Yeah man, you are right. I hope our America also follows their footsteps.

Alex : How are you going to cope with their language?

John : Why not? From my school days I have been learning Hindi as my first language here at New York. At the Consulate they tested my proficiency in Hindi and were quite impressed by my cent percent score in TOHIL i.e. Test of Hindi as International Language.

Alex : So, you are going to have fun there.

John : Yeah, I will be travelling in the world's fastest train, world's largest theme park, and the famous Bollywood where you can see actors like, Hrithik, and all. Esselworld is also near to Bollywood. Alex : You know, the PM is scheduled to visit US next year, he may then relax the number of visas.

John : That's true. Last month, Narayanamurthy visited White House and donated Rs. 2000/- for infrastructure development at Silicon Valley and has promised more if we follow the model of High-Tech City of Hyderabad. Bill Gates also got a chance of meeting him. Very lucky person.

Alex : But, Indian government is planning to split Narayanamurthy's Infosys.

John : He is a hard worker man, he can build any number of Infosys like this. Every minute he is getting Rs. 1000/-. It seems, if you keep all his money converted as Rs. 100/- notes you can reach Pluto.

Alex : OK, Good Luck John.

John : Same to you Alex. And don't go to Consulate in a Kurta Pyjama because they will think you are too Indianised and may doubt you will ever come back and hence your Non-Immigrant Visa may get rejected. But don't to say "Namaste, aap kaise hai" to the Visa officer at Window 5. It seems he likes that and will not give you a visa if you don't greet him that way.

THE DENTIST

The Millers were shown into the dentist's office, where

Mr. Miller made it clear he was in a big hurry.

"No expensive extras, Doctor," he ordered. "No gas or needles or any of that fancy stuff. Just pull the tooth and get it over with."

"I wish more of my patients were as stoic as you,"
said the dentist admiringly. "Now, which tooth is it?"

Mr. Miller turned to his wife...

"Show him your tooth, Honey."

THE CONSULTANTS

One day, three consultants, one from Wipro, one from Infosys and one from NIIT, went together for a walk. They were old buddies from b-school, and they were joining together to remember the tough old days they went as students together.

For no apparent reasons, they went into this zoo and passed an elephant. Having worked in the same field and from the same school, ofcourse there is a little bit of peer competition going on between themselves, so when he saw this elephant, an idea clicked the Infosys guy, he said to the others " Why don't we prove who are the best among ourselves ?".

The other two, of course, agreed.

Then the Infosyan said "Let's make a test. Whoever can make this elephant to laugh, he works for the best firm". After they all agreed, they started.

Being a pure logical strategist, the Infosyan tried to make the elephant laugh by telling jokes. Of course it stayed still.
..As a more practical consultant, the Wipro guy tried to make funny gestures...and the elephant still stayed still.... Now, comes the NIIT guy.. being the practical guy he was always told to be, he whispered something to the elephant,
and it laughed at him
while pointing its fingers to him...

The other two were astonished. How come this NIIT guy be able to beat them? So the Wipro guy said "OK, let's make another test.

Let's make this elephant cry !!". So there they went again, practicing the same method as before. The Infosys guy told sad sad stories, the Wipro guy made sad gestures, and they fail again.....
Then, the NIIT guy whispered something again to the elephant's ear and
It just cried, weeping.....and patting the NIIT guy's shoulder.

This cannot be, thought the other two. So the Infosyan said
"OK, you've won twice. If you can win this test, we will bow to you. Let's make this elephant run". He went and bark to the elephant orders to run. Of course, it stayed still .... The Wipro guy > pushes the elephant and stab it with stake to make it run, it stayed still.

> So...our NIIT guy come to it and whispered something again to it's ear and the elephant run and run as fast as it could, as if it was scared to death.

The other two surrendered. They say "OK, you're the best pal. You work for a very good firm, tell us your secret".

"Well" said the NIIT guy, "the first time I made it laugh, I said I..I work for NIIT".

" When I made it cry as if it were very sad and patted me, I told the elephant how much I get paid".

" And when I made it run scared to death, I said to it, Why don't you join NIIT?"
